Dear Name,

May the grace of God be yours in abundance. You must be happy to be out of the hospital and back in the comfort of your own home again. I am relieved to hear that the surgery went well; I was praying for you, as I know were many in the congregation.

I hope that you are as comfortable as possible, considering what you have undergone. Though it is to be expected that you will not be up and around like normal for a couple of weeks, I pray that your recovery is quicker than anticipated.

Some of the ladies in the congregation have coordinated meals to be brought over to you for the remainder of this week. That should make it easier for (SPOUSE) to concentrate on helping you.

I will be by to see you in a few days. Until then, may God bless you and give strength to your body.

Sincerely,

Name
